

Entering the contest is simple and free!

1. Visit the Animal Center anytime during opening hours (Mon-Fri 1-7pm and Sat & Sun noon-6pm).
2. Walk through our kennels and view our 10 Pit Idol contestants. They are easy to locate - just look for the brightly colored Pit Idol flyer on their kennel.
3. Read their biographies. See who charms you the most!
4. Decide who you would like to win Pit Idol 2010. Remember this is a life-changing opportunity for the winning dog: they will be awarded a scholarship to Dogs Etc Dog Training school and will become a breed ambassador!
5. Complete a ballot card. Drop in the ballot box on the way out. Easy!

Votes will be counted on 1 March. The dog that has the most votes will be crowned Pit Idol 2010. If you voted for the winning dog, your ballot will automatically go into a drawing for a cash prize of $500!

The dogs that have the second and third most votes will be declared runners-up. Once again, if you voted for one of these dogs you will automatically be entered for a runners'-up prize: A Lazio LCD HDTV and an Ipod Nano!

Voters must be over 18 to participate. One vote per person. Two votes per household. Any extra votes will not be counted (no cheating!).

If the dog you voted for is adopted during the contest, they will automatically be eliminated from the contest. However, you may re-vote for another dog. You can keep up to date with developments by checking this website - look out for an "adopted" sign over their photo on the Pit Idol poster.

Good Luck and May the Best Pit Win!
